Frequently Asked Questions

When can a team lineup be submitted?

Captains can select participating players well in advance of the match from any device. The selections can be confirmed from a different device and submitted before the match begins.

Can a team lineup be edited after it has been submitted?

If your league utilizes a "blind random" drawing to create the match lineup, both captains must request a "Void Line Up" to redraw the match. Otherwise, all changes must be made manually in the scoring application before each set/match is played.

Who is allowed to submit the team lineup?

The default is only captains and co-captains can submit a player lineup. However, some leagues may allow any player on the team. Regardless, the player creating the lineup must have a FREE guest account.
